Dated: 24th July, 2015

Press Release

- ESIC is going to start appropriate cancer detection/treatment facilities and cardiology treatment facilities at different level of hospitals

Apart from a range of cash benefits, ESIC also provides medical care to the Insured Persons covered under the ESI Scheme and their family members. The medical care includes primary care to super speciality care. Primary and secondary care are provided in the ESI institution itself. Some of the super speciality treatment are also available in the ESI institutions. However, for most of the super speciality treatment requirements, the patients are referred to empanelled hospitals.

Now, ESIC has decided to include such super speciality facilities in ESIC Hospitals in phases. In this regard, ESIC is going to start appropriate cancer detection/treatment and cardiology treatment facilities at different level of ESIC hospitals by 31st December, 2015.

ESI Scheme is a labour welfare scheme for providing social security benefits including reasonable health-care.
